Americans Drive Near St. Nazaire

RENNEZ, Aug. 4.—(AP)—American troops completed the occupation of Rennes today, moving in behind fleeing Germans who had mined and blasted the heart of the city into a shambles.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Americans were believed tonight to have swept close to St. Nazaire, virtually completing the cutoff of the Brest peninsula. Advanced forces were believed well beyond any points thus far officially disclosed.

Ruthless Action Demanded; General Deserts to Reds

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Berlin reported today that Adolf Hitler had ordered a "ruthless purge" of the German army as a result of the attempt on his life last month, and named 24 ranking army officers as executed, suicides, deserters or expelled in connection with the plot.

For the first time the Nazis acknowledged the sweeping scope and gravity of the anti-Nazi rebellion highlighted by the attempted assassination of Hitler, and revealed that a "court of honor" had been set up to carry out the purge and try to root out the last of the suspects.

Baron Ernst Von Weizsacker, German ambassador to the Vatican, has deserted the Nazi cause and informed the Holy See that he will no longer represent the existing German government, authoritative Vatican sources revealed today.

Gen. George Lindemann, veteran army commander in the Baltics, was reported by the DNB News Agency to have deserted to the Russians in the first high defection of that category in the Nazi military ranks.

A Major Kuhn also was described as a deserter to the Soviets.

SAY ARMY "ASKED" HITLER FOR PURGE

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—The German radio said tonight that "the army has requested Hitler to carry out a purge in the army—to cleanse it of the July 20 traitors," and that Hitler had approved.

"A court of honor is to inquire into the attitude of the generals," the D.N.B. dispatch said, "its function will be to investigate who had taken part in the plot (the July 20 attempted assassination of Hitler) and oust those who participated."

Among those on the court of inquiry, the official news agency listed Marshal Von Rundstedt, deposed commander in France and frequently reported a victim of the purge; Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command, also was named for the court.

Premier Says:

Dominion Will Exclude Japs Following War

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Complete exclusion of Japanese immigration after the war was announced today as a government policy by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a statement on Japanese in Canada.

A special commission will be set up to determine which Japanese are loyal and which disloyal, he said. Those disloyal would be sent to Japan, whether or not they were born there. Those loyal would be treated justly, but would not be allowed to congregate again in British Columbia.

Speaking of Japanese in Canada, Mr. King said 22,096 of 23,149 lived in British Columbia before the outbreak of war. It could not be said the government left the problem to British Columbia during the war.

CANADIAN PROBLEM

It was one to be faced "by the whole of Canada, as a Canadian problem," he said.

At Youth Rally

Premier Ernest Manning Is Against Any Coalition

Coming out definitely against formation of a coalition government even if called upon to do so, Premier Ernest Manning said here Thursday night that he and his government stood for certain rights and as long as the people wanted them, they would never back down.

The statement was made at a "Get Out the Vote" rally held at the Masonic Temple by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"If you were called upon to form a coalition government would you do so?" the premier was asked. "Definitely no. We stand for certain rights. We will never back down from those rights as long as the people want us to fight for them," he replied.

Speakers invited to address the gathering, in addition to Premier Manning, were Elmer E. Roper, provincial leader of the CCF party; J. Percy Page, president of the Independent party; James A. MacPherson, provincial leader of the Labor-Progressive party; W. J. Williams, ex-servicemen's and armed forces candidate and Don McDonald, president of the Strathcona High School Students Union.

J. M. McKenzie, co-chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce "Get Out the Vote" campaign was chairman.

More than 110 persons attended. The meeting turned out to be one of the liveliest political gatherings of the Edmonton campaign. Each candidate was given 15 minutes to explain his party's policy. Each

Montreal's Tram Strike Continues

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—(CP)—A strike by 4,000 workers in the operating departments of the Montreal Tramways Company continued through the second day today and hopes of a speedy settlement to restore the street car service to the city appeared less hopeful.

Members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.R.E.), the workers said they were ready to carry the fight "to a finish" and talked of a strike lasting as long as two weeks.

The strike followed a vote by members of the C.B.R.E. in which they voted 3,520 to 78 in favor of a walkout after a conciliation board had refused to approve inclusion of a union shop clause in the collective bargaining agreement.

Plans were made by large industrial concerns and war plants in the district and there were few reports of absenteeism. Fleets of trucks were used by the firms to bring their employees to work while others travelled in automobiles or hitched rides from passing motorists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—George Holman, 47-year-old Negro cafe proprietor, was found guilty late last night on 22 counts of murder in the first degree for setting the fire which destroyed the New Amsterdam hotel March 28.

King Declares: Next 2 Weeks May Settle Fate Of Nazi Reich

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, opening debate on external affairs in the Commons today, said the "next two weeks may witness battles which will go far to decide the fate of the German stronghold both in the east and west."

The gigantic Russian offensive has "hurled back the enemy on a scale never dreamed of in modern warfare," and in Normandy the advance of the Allied forces was steadily continuing, said Mr. King.

Canadian forces on land, sea and in the air were participating in the war in Italy and western Europe. In various parts of Europe underground forces in large numbers were engaging the enemy, he continued. Throughout the war they had hampered the enemy. In the period of liberation they would be of great value. The attitude of Turkey and Finland illustrated the crumbling German position.

RESULT OF PLANS
These events all came as result of plans made at conferences such as those of Casablanca, Quebec, Cairo and Tehran. The Casablanca and Quebec conferences were essentially devoted to military plans, the Cairo and Tehran conferences

CCF Is Planning To Tax Interest Going to East

By Canadian Press Writer
CALGARY, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan said in a provincial election campaign speech last night that his government believed it could tax interest now leaving the province when paid to companies with headquarters in Eastern Canada.

"We believe we can get money from the mortgage companies which obtain large sums from the west although they have not even an office in the west," said Mr. Douglas, who was elected as leader of the first CCF government in June.

"We believe we can tax interest and can keep some of the interest which now is leaving Saskatchewan."

Special Session Will Be Called In Saskatchewan

To provide debt legislation for protection of Saskatchewan farmers, a special session of the new CCF legislature in that province will be called in the first week of October, Premier T. C. Douglas, Saskatoon, announced on arrival in Edmonton Friday.

Leader of Canada's first socialist government, Mr. Douglas is here to take part in the Alberta election campaign. He is a guest at the Corona hotel.

"We won't need to call the special session any sooner," Mr. Douglas said this morning. "The mortgage companies had already started pressing our farmers when we called them in and warned we would pass a general moratorium by order-in-council if they continued that way. They stopped."

The Saskatchewan leader said debt legislation in his province would not be patterned on Alberta laws, but would strike out a new line.

A crop failure clause is to be made mandatory in all bills of sale and mortgages of farms, and

Early Morning Crash

Street Car Operator Dies After Accident

William A. McKinnon, 11409 94 street, 37-year-old street railway motorman, rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital early Friday morning after the tram he was operating crashed into the rear of another at 124 street and 114 avenue, died at 1 p.m. He had recovered consciousness for a while after the accident.

McKinnon, operating a Calder car, No. 36, was said by police to have crashed into the rear of an Aircraft Repair Special car, No. 17, operated by Donald F. Olson, 10214 106 avenue, about 6:50 a.m.

The crash occurred as the tram driven by Olson was discharging passengers at the intersection and the McKinnon car plowed into it. The first vehicle was telescoped about one-third of the way through, demolishing both the rear vestibule of the Aircraft Special and the front vestibule of the Calder tram.

In plowing into the Olson tram, McKinnon's car "nose" beneath the rear of the first, raising it up and going under it, pinning McKinnon to the floor. All passengers had departed before police arrived.

Olsen, who was thrown backwards in the vestibule of his car, told police he suffered some pain in his back.

Both cars were headed north at the time, and the injured motorman

Legion Protests Union Protection For "Objectors"

WINNIPEG, Aug. 4.—(CP)—The Manitoba Command, Canadian Legion, seeks to have union protection granted conscientious objectors taken into civilian employment during the war, withdrawn as soon as peace comes and demobilized fighting men are available for work, it was announced here yesterday.

Approval for this stand was given at a meeting of the Manitoba Command Wednesday night, and it was decided the Legion now would invite employers and unions to negotiate modification of present agreements.

Conscientious objectors given civilian employment were automatically granted union protection, a Legion spokesman said. The Legion will ask that agreements be modified so as to permit discharge without union protection of such workers.

at again having most of the Japanese in Canada.

At the same time it was well to remember that generally speaking the Japanese had been loyal to Canada during the war.

"No person of Japanese origin, born in Canada, has been charged with any act of sabotage or disloyalty," said Mr. King.

Those who were shown to be disloyal to Canada should not be allowed to remain. Not all those who were interned were disloyal and not all those who were free were loyal.

NO IMMIGRATION
For the future there should be no more immigration from Japan. That was a desirable policy although it should not be stated as binding for all time to come.

The government proposed to follow a "continental policy" with respect to the Japanese in Canada. A commission would be established to determine which Japanese were loyal. Those found to be disloyal, if British subjects, would be stripped of their citizenship. As one of the terms of peace Japan would be required to take them in.

All Japanese found to be loyal were entitled to justice. The interests of the nation were paramount but it was not necessary to descend to the standards set by the enemy.

It was neither good for Canada nor good for the Japanese-Canadians that they congregate as an unassimilable bloc in British Columbia again.

With the co-operation of the provinces it should be possible to distribute them across Canada. A few thousand of them, none of whom had been disloyal under trying conditions, could not be regarded as a menace to Canada.

Benjamin Franklin made no money from his inventions; he believed that they should be contributed to the public and refused patents.

For Normandy Drive British, Canucks Praised By U.S. War Secretary

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—War Secretary Henry Stimson yesterday gave credit to British and Canadian forces for their deep drive into enemy lines south west of Caen and declared that all the Allied forces in France were fighting as one unit.

"All share in the success thus far achieved," Stimson said in his weekly review of operations. He commented that the American advance was more "spectacular" but called attention to the British thrust of 17 miles south of Vire, and the value of the British-Canadian forces through their engagement of heavy German forces in the Caen area.

The secretary commented as follows on the British-Canadian part in the operations:

"While the most spectacular gain has been made by American troops who have been adept at learning and applying the principles of blitz warfare, the British troops, whose attack was timed to follow after the start of American operations have now broken through 17 miles south of Vire."

"Also the earlier attack of British and Canadians at Caen and their continual maintenance of an aggressive front in that area tied up a heavy array of German forces, especially of German armor."

"This, in turn, gave assurance that the Nazi lines to the west where the American attack was launched, would be thinner."

"Thus, all the Allied forces have fought as one unit and all share in the success thus far achieved."

Tram Motorman Dies as Result Of Cars' Crash

was unable to get out for about 35 minutes.

The extent of McKinnon's injuries could not be learned, although one leg was believed to have been crushed under the steel control box of the car he had been operating. There were also body and head abrasions.

GAVE ASSISTANCE

It was soon after the crash, police stated that Charles Stretch, 11337 102 street, used his auto to bring planks and blocks from the home he was building nearby, to pry the wrecked tram apart. Mr. Stretch was instrumental, police said, in speeding the release of the injured motorman.

Another who assisted in the removal of the motorman was Acting-Sgt. C. McCarthy, 10482 125 street, CPR police department.

Smith's ambulance arrived at the scene before McKinnon had been extricated and some equipment in the ambulance, as well as a crane from the Jesuit College, was put to use in pulling the two trams apart.

Police suspected that a bit of "sneaking work" was done during the severing of the cars' operations, when a heavy bumper jack, part of the Smith ambulance equipment, disappeared. A search is being made for the implement.

McKinnon, it was stated by street railway officials, started with the department on June 12.

It was the same operator, it was stated, who was involved in another collision at Jasper avenue and 100 street, last July 17. McKinnon was conductor of the tram which crashed into the rear of another one at that time, injuring three persons.

Constables E. F. Forsland and Henry Kroeker of the city police department gave assistance to railway officials.

Street car service was re-routed and buses were put into operation over that route. Work of clearing away the debris continued throughout the morning.

An investigation is being made.

A complete investigation has been ordered into circumstances surrounding the tram crash by Street Railway Superintendent Thomas Ferrier.

In PREVIOUS CRASH

In announcing that there would be a full investigation Mr. Ferrier revealed that Motorman William A. McKinnon, severely injured in the crash, was the operator of a car that figured in a collision between two trams at 100 street and Jasper Avenue early in July.

The motorman had been suspended for 10 days at the time of the July accident but reinstated and put back in service after an investigation of that crash.

The superintendent said that the investigation on the Friday crash would begin at once with the questioning of passengers of both cars and the checkup of equipment.

The Bulletin's Position

Because, as we have consistently demonstrated, The Edmonton Bulletin believes in giving every party and faction an opportunity to state their views, we have accepted for publication in today's editions an advertisement from the CCF which undertakes to attack the newspapers of this province.

Part of this advertisement says this: "The newspapers speak for the Big Shots. Every people's movement aimed at human progress in the economic field has always had the daily press in opposition."

Then this advertisement goes on to define the Big Shots as the oil companies, the power interests and the financial institutions.

We cannot, of course, speak for other newspapers. But the allegation that The Edmonton Bulletin is in the service of the Big Shots is laughable. It is not in accord with the facts.

The Bulletin was fighting for monetary reform before the CCF was born. No newspaper in Canada has been more diligent in support of social security and social justice than ourselves. These are facts that are obvious to our readers.

We have no disposition whatsoever to attack socialism or those who advocate it. Indeed, we had hoped that this campaign could have been completed by us on an entirely constructive basis.

But since this newspaper, along with others, is challenged by the CCF, since our good faith is impugned and our independence assailed, there is nothing for it but to show plainly why we distrust and dislike socialism—no matter how much we respect those who profess it.

Socialism purports to be a compassionate doctrine. That is to say, it is aimed primarily at the elevation of human standards and the welfare of the human race. But the basic virtue in compassion and helpfulness lies in the desire to help, in the impulse itself. Socialism eliminates, or rather degrades, that individual desire to help by unloading all compassionate impulse upon the state. It makes brotherly love (the basis of all social intercourse) obsolete, because brotherly love, under the socialistic plan, becomes a function of the state.

Thus, socialism attacks the inherent dignity and worth of the individual.

The home, we maintain, is the proper unit of society. Socialism makes the unit of society, not the home, but a synthetic aggregation called the personalized state. We have all seen the dangers that lie in the personalization and deification of the state.

The socialistic principle is presented as something new. Actually it is one of the oldest, and most discredited forms of political experimentation.

The Greek city state was socialistic in essence. It had all the outward efficiency of a hive of bees. It was a perfect organization. But it possessed one fault—a fatal fault—that it flouted the urgencies and needs of human nature.

The socialistic principle, apart from the new embellishments added by Karl Marx, was the highest type of advanced political thinking two thousand years ago—when the world was never so weary, never so cynical and never so desperate.

Not The Bulletin but history has delivered the verdict against socialism.

That is why this newspaper has taken the position of advising its readers to support the Manning Social Credit Government as an organization which has given this province progressive administration and which is the only political organization capable of saving Alberta, at this moment, from the disastrous pagan chimeras of socialism.

We Can Get Along

Dismal reports come out of Quebec about the trends of public opinion in the provincial elections of that province. Every word of the campaign, we are told, widens the gulf between French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians. Every argument is being turned towards the determination of Quebec groups to control the destinies of the entire Dominion.

If this is so—and there seems little reason to doubt it—the Canadian attitude towards Quebec must undergo radical change. The approach to the French-Canadian problem must be completely altered.

For there are a few facts which must be borne in mind. Canada was not won and developed by the French and the British as equal partners with intrinsic equal rights. Lower Canada was taken from the French by force of arms. It became British by right of conquest.

The Treaty of Paris which ceded Canada to Britain was the most generous and tolerant peace treaty ever formulated. It gave the French the right to preserve their language, their traditions, their religion. It guaranteed them proportional rights in governing the country. It safeguarded their interests in every possible way.

Thus, the French-Canadians became equal partners with English-Canadians, not as an intrinsic right, but through the generosity and fair-dealing of the British victors. They had and have no rights at all except those freely given them.

It is, then, a most shocking historical paradox that any group of French-Canadians, under these circumstances, should plot to control all Canada. It is repudiation of a treaty that gave them far more than they asked.

It seems painfully obvious, therefore, that continued appeasement does not work with the temperament of Quebec nationalists. It is utter folly to continue to bribe them with special consideration because this merely emphasizes their belief that they are a race apart.

This, of course, is criminal nonsense. The men of Normandy and Brittany are essentially of the same racial origins as ourselves. They are Celtic-Norman as we are Celtic-Norman.

The new approach, then, should not be to exaggerate differences between French-speaking Canadians and English-speaking Canadians, but to emphasize the likenesses between them. Quebec and the rest of Canada should have the same laws, the same traditions, the same educational standards and the same responsibilities and duties.

Only by strict application of this principle can unity be achieved.

War's End

Prime Minister Winston Churchill tells the British House of Commons of his hope that the war may soon be over, that the German surrender may come soon and that the interval between the defeat of Germany and the defeat of Japan may be surprisingly short.

On these subjects, Mr. Churchill is probably the best informed man in the world. His opinions, therefore, must be received with respect.

But it is equally obvious that these opinions must be considered in conjunction, not only with the implications of victory, but also with the implications of peace.

In short, there are two vital points to be remembered in the light of the prime minister's statement:

1. That his hope is entirely contingent upon, not only the maintenance of the present war effort, but upon the acceleration of it.

2. That the peace will not usher in a period of relaxation, but a period of tremendous and unrelenting effort.

For the settlement of the vast problems presented by a violated and enslaved Europe will demand the co-operation of every citizen quite as much as the liberation of Europe has required that co-operation. No one can sit back and leave post-war arrangements to the statesman. The building of a safer and a better world is something in which everyone must play a part.

Mr. Churchill's statement, then, is a call to hope. We should understand that it is not a promise of early relief.

Inexplicable Mystery of the Exploding Fuehrer

Sees Flaws in Miracle Story Told by Doktor Goebbels

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

On Wednesday last Dr. Joseph Goebbels recounted in detail the official version of the attempt to assassinate Hitler. His speech, in the German version was a masterpiece of oratory and an even greater masterpiece of fabrication. Through his attempt to build up a miracle around the Fuehrer he gave away the plot.

This is what we are asked to believe: Colonel Count Von Stauffenberg, gained access to the Fuehrer on pretension to make a report. He entered Hitler's conference room where numbers of officers were assembled, carrying a brief case. This he deposited at the Fuehrer's feet. He departed without taking the brief case. Shortly thereafter the time bomb which the brief case contained exploded. "Behind the Fuehrer stood Colonel General Guenther Korten. He was mortally injured. Others, among them Hitler's double, Heinrich Bernger, were killed. The force of the blast blew other participants through the windows. The conference table before which Hitler stood was blown through the ceiling. Just one spot remained untouched—the spot where the Fuehrer (remember with the bomb at his very feet) stood. If the salvation of the Fuehrer was not a miracle," Goebbels concluded, "there are no miracles."

What actually happened is obvious. Criminals always repeat their crimes. This is a repetition of the Reichstag arson, and the June 1934 purge. There was a fake attack. Perhaps Count Von Stauffenberg played in it the role of a Van Der Lubbe, the victim of Nazi agents provocateurs. Perhaps he wasn't there at all. At any rate he, or others in the war ministry, were falsely informed that Hitler had been killed, and immediately took normal steps for such circumstances. They called together the senior officers of the capital and ordered the government buildings occupied against chaos. Hitler revealed that they communicated with troop leaders and gave orders which he afterward countermanded. It is obvious that in case of the death of the Fuehrer the Wehrmacht would try to take over.

The Nazi party could thus foresee what would happen in case of an attempt on Hitler's life. They found out who would move and in which direction. They played a come-on game. They precipitated a Wehrmacht coup in order to have an ex-

Every officer entering the presence of Hitler, even if he be chief of staff, is compelled to leave his pistol at the door. He is searched. But a relatively unimportant man comes in with a brief case without being searched. He deposits it at the Fuehrer's feet, and goes out through the guard, and neither the participants of the conference, nor the guard, note that his hands are now empty. The brief case explodes at the Fuehrer's feet, the room is demolished, but the Fuehrer is unscathed. Miracle number one.

What would now happen any event? The first question asked would be, "Who was here and has left?" The second instruction would be: "Watch every road, airport, and railroad station."

But four hours after Goebbels had been informed of the attempt, Count Von Stauffenberg arrived safely on the Berlin airport. No one arrested him. He went calmly to the war ministry, and conferred with other conspirators who did not even have in the building a troop loyal to them. They called up the chief of the most reliable Nazi troop in the city, and ordered him to occupy government buildings. None of the conspirators was cautious enough to accompany this move. They sat and waited in the war ministry without protection, until they are grabbed and shot. And this is a plot of German generals, famous for meticulous staff work!

Every officer entering the presence of Hitler, even if he be chief of staff, is compelled to leave his pistol at the door. He is searched. The brief case explodes at the Fuehrer's feet, the room is demolished, but the Fuehrer is unscathed. Miracle number one.

What would now happen any event? The first question asked would be, "Who was here and has left?" The second instruction would be: "Watch every road, airport, and railroad station."

But four hours after Goebbels had been informed of the attempt, Count Von Stauffenberg arrived safely on the Berlin airport. No one arrested him. He went calmly to the war ministry, and conferred with other conspirators who did not even have in the building a troop loyal to them. They called up the chief of the most reliable Nazi troop in the city, and ordered him to occupy government buildings. None of the conspirators was cautious enough to accompany this move. They sat and waited in the war ministry without protection, until they are grabbed and shot. And this is a plot of German generals, famous for meticulous staff work!

District News in Brief

Annual Exhibition Opens at Red Deer

RED DEER—The Red Deer fair opened its gates for the 54th Thursday with prospects for an excellent three-day show. Thursday evening there was a complete program in front of the grandstand.

Entries in livestock are heavy this year with the classes in cattle, horses, sheep and swine well represented and promise of keen competition. Entries are well up in the children's division and in women's work and domestic manufacture. Prize money has been increased this year.

There is a good range of entertainment offered and the grandstand attractions are up to the high standard of the last few years.

One of the valuable features of the fair is the camp for farm boys. This opened on Thursday with an attendance of more than 30 young farmers from all parts of the district. They are being provided with free meals and living accommodation by the fair board. During the three days the lads will have lectures, demonstrations and judging competitions and as well there will be prizes for general proficiency. The camp is being sponsored by the provincial department of agriculture, the University of Alberta, the Red Deer Agricultural society, the T. Eaton Company (Western) Ltd., Red Deer, and the Alberta Wheat Pool. The camp which was a fair feature before the war was suspended in 1939. J. E. Birdsall, district agriculturist, Red Deer, is the supervisor in charge, with A. D. Bower and J. P. McKinnon on the committee.

A big program is ready for Friday. Official opening takes place in front of the grandstand at 2 p.m., with Col. J. J. Burton-Willison, ED, commander of A20 Canadian Army Service Corps Training Centre, Red Deer, doing the honors. The military band from the centre, under Bandmaster Wally Hayward, will be present.

There will be two grandstand performances and the midway will be in operation.

The race program starts on Friday afternoon with another bill in the evening. In addition to a good card of running races there will be democrat races for the first time here. At least five smart outfits are entered and there are plenty of fast ponies for the running events. President R. A. Van Slyke, Secretary D. W. Robertson and the directors have worked hard for months past to line up a splendid show for the people of Central Alberta.

The Canadian Red Cross will receive a substantial cheque as the result of the generosity of a well-known stockman of this district and the co-operation of the Red Deer Agricultural Society. For the fifth consecutive year Thomas Baines, Jersey breeder of the Red Deer district, has donated a registered Jersey heifer to the society. Tickets are being sold on the heifer and after the drawing the proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross. If ticket sales run as high this year as they did in 1943 the Red Cross will have benefited to the extent of about $4,000 through Mr. Baines' donations.

R. H. Edgar, Fred Turnbull and Mr. Baines are the committee in charge of ticket sales and they report a splendid response from the public. The draw will be made on the last night of the fair, and the calf is redeemable at $100.

Rimbey Residents Are Proud of Son

RIMBEY—Mr. and Mrs. William Culling whose third and youngest son "Jack" won the Military Medal are the proudest parents in Canada.

Jack was born in Armstrong, B.C. The family moved to Calgary. Mr. Culling was employed on the sand pit near Earl Grey school for 10 years. Jack and two older brothers first attended Mount Royal school. They had two years in the Blinman Valley school west of here. Then the family accepted the government offer to take up land in the Last West, M.D., under the $600 plan. That was 11 years ago and now Sam and Jack are in the army.

They enlisted three years ago. They heard the recruiting party would be at Lacombe, 30 miles away and the brothers decided to join-up. Sam joined the Calgary Tanks and Jack with the unit from which he was later transferred to his present company. Thomas, the eldest son, is farming northwest of here with his father. They have bought land which they are holding in readiness for Sam and Jack when they come home again.

Jack fretted and fumed at the delay occasioned during three long months of hospitalization due to injuries received during maneuvers, but lately he has seen plenty of action and after the big affair on May 24, wrote modestly to his mother saying, "You are likely to see my name in the paper... there was a war correspondent here a few days ago."

Sam has seen plenty of action also, having been in Dieppe, Sicily and is now in Italy.

LACOMBE—Miss Mary Kowacz of Solikirk, Man., has arrived to spend a holiday with relatives. Miss Jennie Hembury of Edmonton is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hembury. Upton and son of Calgary are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. G. Ramsay. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Van Hook and Mr. and Mrs. V. Lawrence were recent visitors in Banff. Mrs. T. Dixon took place Thursday.

He left this week for Newfoundland where he is stationed.

RED DEER—Group Capt. W. T. F. Wrightman, DFC, is the new commanding officer at No. 36 Service Flying Training School, Royal Air Force, Penhold. He takes over from Group Captain H. J. Pringle AFC, who has been appointed to the staff of the United Kingdom Air Liaison Mission at Ottawa.

The new commanding officer entered the Royal Air Force College at Cranwell in the Old Country as a cadet in 1927, and on graduating in 1929 was posted to a fighter squadron. He took a course in 1933 at the Central Flying School and was an instructor at the RAF College until 1937. He was promoted to the rank of Squadron Leader in 1938. From March, 1939, to June 1941, he commanded a fighter squadron in the Middle East. He was mentioned in dispatches and promoted to the rank of Wing Commander in 1940.

City, Alberta Troops With Unique Unit

By DOUG HOW
WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, Aug. 4.—(CP)—This is about one segment of a regiment that was first an infantry battalion, then an armored unit and finally probably the only Canadian regiment operating both in France and in Italy.

It is about one of the seven squadrons of the 25th Canadian Armored Delivery Regiment (Elgin Regiment), that has worked with a Canadian armored brigade throughout its campaign in Sicily and Italy. The other six are in Italy, England and France.

MAINTAIN BRIGADE
Through the squadron flow the men and armor that keep the brigade's three regiments reinforced.

Fresh reinforcements, men coming back from hospital, transfers, all go through Maj. King's squadron to the combatant units. Some men have come under his command eight times.

Outside a pup tent beside a dusty road one July day were troops N. M. Sokolowski, Vegreville, Alta., and A. R. Windim, Vancouver. A few days before a shell had damaged their Sherman and they had come back from the Calgary Regiment to await its repair.

Across the field were troops J. F. Clarke, Winnipeg, and L-Cpl. Raymond Mucha, Waskatenau, Alta., both Elgin Regiment men. Squadron N.C.O.'s include J. D. Gregory, Edmonton.

Calgary Barrister Reported Wounded

VICTORIA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Gnr. Ronald R. Simmons is reported wounded in action in Normandy. His parents are Hon. William C. Simmons, former chief justice of Alberta, and Mrs. Simmons, who now live in this city. Gnr. Simmons is a well-known barrister of Calgary. His wife and family reside here.

Sitdown Strike

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Aug. 4.—(CP)—Approximately 450 members of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union (C.I.O.) were on a sitdown strike here yesterday demanding expulsion by the Prince Rupert dry-dock and shipyard of five yard employees whom they termed "anti-union." The strike started when workers laid down their tools on the afternoon shift Wednesday.

New Brunswick Leader of CCF Outlines Policy

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 4.—(CP)—"Public ownership and full development of natural resources, including electric power services, oil and gas fields and other public utilities," were pledged in a 12-point manifesto announced last night by J. A. Muirhead, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader in the New Brunswick election campaign. He spoke over a network of New Brunswick radio stations.

The manifesto for the Aug. 28 election promised that mineral power and timber resources, "instead of enriching a few individuals," would be "restored to the people" by the CCF. "There is probably no province in the dominion where so much of the resources have become the property of so few, as in our own New Brunswick," asserted Mr. Muirhead.

ADDITIONAL PROMISES

The platform pledged representation of labor, farming and fishing on all provincial government boards; enforcement of legislation giving employees the right to organize in trade unions of their own choice, with non-recognition of company unions; protection of small business; co-operation in low-rental rural and urban housing and slum clearance; and higher living standards for farmers and fishermen, with guaranteed floor prices, co-operative farm service stations, province-wide veterinary service, a provincial agricultural college and further encouragement of co-operatives and credit unions.

HEALTH SERVICES

The party would establish an "independent" provincial civil service commission, free medical, hospital, dental and nurses services for rural and urban citizens and equal educational opportunity up to university status, with free text books and supplies until completion of high school courses.

Canuck Bombers Hit Robot Dumps

WITH THE CANADIAN BOMBER GROUP IN ENGLAND, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Lancasters and Halifaxes of the Canadian bomber group struck twice yesterday at flying robot dumps in France in the heaviest raids ever mounted by the RCAF.

Fourteen Canadian squadrons joined with the RAF in the attack and all of the many Canadian planes in action returned.

Air Vice-Marshal C. M. McEwen, group commander, met airman of the Alouette and Snowy Owl squadrons when they returned and praised the ground and aircrews for their "truly magnificent" effort. It was he who revealed this was the largest force of Canadians ever sent out.

Albertans on the raid included Flt. Lt. A. D. Lewis, Lethbridge, Alta., and Sqdn. Ldr. A. L. Lowe, Calgary.

Sons of Freedom May Take Bodies From Open Tomb

BRILLIANT, B.C., Aug. 4.—(CP)—Fourteen members of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect stripped off their clothing at one point in ceremonies held at the dynamite-blasted tomb of Peter Lordly Verigin I and Peter Verigin II here yesterday and other Sons of Freedom members prevented members of the orthodox branch of the sect from cementing over the desecrated burial place.

Rumors in this Kootenay district had it that the Sons of Freedom planned to remove the bodies of the two Doukhobor leaders to their nearby settlement of Krestova.

The Sons of Freedom, reinforced by the arrival of co-religionists from Saskatchewan here to celebrate the anniversary dates of various landmarks in their faith, appeared to have control of the situation.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

ALBERTA horsemen topped the list of leading winning stables at the Calgary, Regina and Saskatoon exhibition race meets, according to the list compiled by racing officials here on the eve of the ten-day meet which opens at the Exhibition track at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon.

The Calgary owner-trainer, T. M. Morrison, and the string owned by S. Riddle and L. H. VanHousen won $2,840 and $2,835 respectively; L. W. Marks, Lexington, Ky., was third, followed by E. Johansen, Calgary; H. P. Streeter of Staveland and Lee Williams of Edmonton—all of whom topped the $2,000 hurdle.

With such useful thoroughbreds as Some Do, Messenger, Maid, Willie Marcus and Best Dress, in his stable, Tommy Morrison accounted for eight firsts, seven seconds, three thirds and a pair of fourths.

Lee Williams, who incidentally is chairman of the race committee of the Exhibition Association, has on his credit side for his entries—six firsts, five seconds, five thirds and three fourths. Mrs. Durrant and Cowen, also of Edmonton gathered in four firsts, three seconds, and the same number of thirds, along with a single fourth. Parslow and Denoon, C. Hobbs, Ross and Goodman, T. Burton and A. Carnegie and W. M. Little, all of Calgary and J. E. Meeks of Raymond were well up on the list.

YANKS HARD TO KEEP DOWN
A MERE matter of a few runs in arrears doesn't appear to be any mental hazard for the Yanks these days. And overcoming sizeable deficits just seems part of the evening's chores for Wayne Adams' league leaders—a fact amply dem-

Hembling and Carmichael Pace Navy in Swim Meet

Led by Bruce Hembling and Bert Carmichael with two victories each, HMCS Nonsuch won top honors in the inter-service swimming meet sponsored by No. 4 ITS—on the South Side Pool Thursday night. The Navy men finished up with 45 points to defeat the ITS squad who had 25 and the NWAC team who had five.

Hembling, a local tank man who has turned in some outstanding performances in previous efforts, came within one-fifth of a second of the provincial record in winning the 50 yards free style and then registered a nice time in coping the 70 yards back stroke.

The leading seaman edged out Squadron-Leader Dick Cline, D.F.C. North African star, in a thrilling two-man free style race. Cline, who hails from Vancouver, is a brother of Ed. Cline, who starred as a member of the No. 3 "M" Depot swimming aggregation in local service meets last summer. The squadron leader, who is now going through for a pilot, also came second in the 70 yards back stroke, won by Carmichael.

In addition to the 70 yards back stroke, Carmichael took the 100 yards free style, edging out teammate O.S. Cook.

Both the medley relay and the relay races were won by the Navy. They had very little trouble in beating the ITS representatives in the two events.

The next inter-service swim meet will be held late this month and will be sponsored by the Navy.

Following are the results:
50 yards, free style: 1. Hembling, Navy; 2. Cline, ITS; 3. Cook, Navy. Time, 25-5/8 sec.
200 yards, free style: 1. Trevena, N.W.A.C.; 2. Zuchiatelli, ITS; 3. Ford, Navy. Time, 2:38-3/4 sec.
100 yards, free style: 1. Carmichael, Navy; 2. Cook, Navy; 3. Zuchiatelli, ITS. Time, 1:47-3/4 sec.
70 yards, back stroke: 1. Carmichael, Navy; 2. Cline, ITS; 3. Filberg, ITS. Time, 52-3/4 sec.
70 yards, breast stroke: 1. Hembling, Navy; 2. Harding, ITS; 3. Pierce, ITS. Time, 50-4/5 sec.
100 yards, medley relay: 1. Navy; 2. ITS. Time, 1:54-3/4 sec.
160 yards, relay: 1. Navy; 2. ITS. Time, 1:20.

Lacrosse Teams Under Suspension

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Three of five teams in the British Columbia inter-city lacrosse league are under suspension for refusing to meet Vancouver Army in scheduled games.

Suspended are New Westminster Salmonbellies, Vancouver Richmonds, and Vancouver Burrards. Officials of these teams have written the B.C. lacrosse commission requesting that a meeting be called to clear up the situation, but the commission has not indicated what action will be taken.

The trouble stemmed from re-entry of Army into the league after it had once withdrawn. Two weeks ago Army was withdrawn by order of the Pacific Command. No reason was given for the action, but last week the ban was lifted and Army's application for re-admission was accepted by the commission.

Penhold Wins
VICTORIA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—RAF cricketers from Penhold, Alta., defeated an RAF team from Comox, B.C., by 42 runs in a game here Thursday. The visitors batted first and occupied the wickets for two hours putting through 100 runs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The bulldozer now has a big brother called the tank-digger. Announcing its development, the United States Army said yesterday the tank-digger consists of a Sherman medium tank with a huge bulldozer blade mounted on the front.

Wayne Adams' Nine Now Half-Game Up in Title Chase

Errors Costly as Yanks Beat Signals 8-6

Wilbur Ray Chalks Up Third Win

THREE unearned runs in the second inning eventually provided the Yanks with an 8-6 margin over U.S. Signals at Renfrew Park on Wednesday night, and they now hold exactly a half-game advantage over Dodgers in the race for the Senior Baseball League title.

In marking up his third straight victory in the same number of starts, Wilbur Ray was nudged for 10 hits, three of them for extra bases. But with the exception of the second session when the Signals rattled off three singles and a double, which with a walk netted a cluster of three counters, the big fellow pitched winning ball all the way.

John Galvin of Yanks with four lusty wallop—once a triple—out of five trips, Lester Nelson with three for five and Jim Kelly with a pair of doubles, also in five attempts supplied most of the thunder.

Work by Columbus Burchfield, third baseman for Yanks was nothing short of sensational and featured the very effective defensive play of Wayne Adams' league leaders.

Signals moved out in front with three runs in the second frame after Jim Kelly opened with a double into left field. Sammy Araps walked, the fourth ball being a wild pitch and Clayton Marx hooked one of Ray's offerings for a single into centre to score Kelly.

Ed Schlager sacrificed and Lloyd Riley's hit brought in the Signal's catcher and Marx rode home on Bert Culver's safety into right field.

Gino Valenti started the grief for Riley in the Yanks' half, when Nelson's throw to first drew Hackler off the bag. Valenti was forced at second by Meyers, the play being Hackler to Junker, but Schumacher walked.

Al Goodrich then hit to Nelson and what looked to be a perfect double killing went haywire when Culver let Nelson's throw go for a two-run error. Goodrich scored from second when Ray singled into left.

Galvin's first of four hits, a walk a passed ball and another error by Culver in handling Schumacher's effort, let the Yanks gain a 4-3 lead in the third inning.

Two more runs came in the fifth on a walk to Roush, Galvin's second hit, an error by Schlager. Meyer's sacrifice and Schumacher's outfield fly.

Final two runs for Yanks were both earned and came from Burchfield's hit, a throw to Dorsky and Galvin's triple.

An error, a stolen base and Nelson's single sent home Junker with a marker for Signals in the seventh. They registered two more in the ninth after two were down, on a walk to Hackler, an error at first on Junker's ground ball and Nelson's three-base smash.

Alberta, Corinthian 'Caps To Highlight Opening Day

The Alberta Handicap and the Corinthian claiming handicap highlight the first day's card at the Exhibition track, Saturday afternoon, when the thoroughbreds return to Edmonton after successful campaigns at Calgary, Winnipeg, Regina and Saskatoon. The Corinthian will be run over a mile and one-sixteenth and the Alberta 'Cap is a seven furlong race.

Both races have drawn some of the best presently campaigning on the western circuit and the running horses will find the half mile Exhibition track to their liking. Aided by recent moisture the track has been worked into perfect condition for the start of the ten-day meeting.

Seventeen were nominated for the 1/2 of a mile Alberta Handicap when Presiding Steward and Racing Secretary George W. Schilling called for nominations on Thursday.

ADENOS NOMINATED
L. W. Marks, who trains and owns one of the largest string operations in the west, has Mistletoe, just coming to her best form, and Adenos, named for the Alberta Handicap. Alf Tarn's Ebony Moon, a winner for the first time this year at Saskatoon, and Mr. Ever who has shown fine form recently rate as prime contenders. Noble King and Pagan Pilot are in great form and in the top handicap class.

The Alberta Derby winner, Pagan Star, and the speedy Sweep Lad are another pair that should offer a lot of contention. Neil Campbell's Pagan Star hit trouble in shipping to Winnipeg after three straight Calgary victories in the spring but following a pair of disappointing races at Winnipeg came back to be a winner at the Calgary Stampede meeting.

Also nominated for Saturday's handicap are Single Claim, who has won several races for H. P. Streeter of Staveland, Perfect Prince, a recent winner at Vancouver, and Amsterson, who has won five races this season. Contributor is a good western bred just getting back into form. Calla Donna, Gloverdale, Lovers Lass, K. Cookie and Ever Star complete the list of entries.

CLAIMING HANDICAP
The Corinthian claiming, which like the Handicap is for three-year-olds and up, will be a test between horses which have had their share of parading to the winners' circle.

There's Valinda Sun, who won the last time out at Saskatoon; Pepper Pot, a winner at the Calgary Stampede meeting, and Flying Buck, a winner the last time out at Saskatoon. The Marks racing interests will be represented by Valinda Bob, Blue Suit and Gallant King, who is coming to form and was a fine second at Saskatoon.

Milner Chucks No-Hitter As Officers Stop Navy 5-0

WITH Mike Milner registering another no-hitter, the colorful U.S.A.A.F. Officers diamond men shut out H.M.C.S. Nonsuch 5-0 at Kingsway Park Thursday night in the opening game of the best of three battle for senior men's northern fastball honors. The series resumes tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

An out-burst in the third inning that netted the Officers four runs provided the turning point in a hard fought game.

Mike Milner led off the frame with a single to right field and Andy Konopka followed with a nice safety to centre. Bill Tudor then fled out to third, but Fred Nidiffer waded into one of Al Young's offerings for a double to drive Milner in and send Konopka to third. Konopka scored on a single by Don Chenoweth and then Clint Kellams hit to left field for a two-bagger to bat in Nidiffer and Chenoweth with the third and fourth markers.

The only other run came in the fifth when Tudor hit one that almost went over the left field fence, for a two bagger, and then scored on a punt by Nidiffer and a double by Chenoweth.

Milner and Young hooked up in what appeared to be a tight pitching duel, but the rally in the third by Officers put a noticeable dint in Young's effort. Up to then he only allowed one single. Milner wound up with by far the best record, however, having allowed just three walks and struck out 10.

For the Navy it was a sudden halt to a nice drive that brought them to the finals.

Cubs Whip Dodgers Twice To Move Into Fourth Place

BROOKLYN, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Chicago Cubs Thursday moved into fourth place in the National League, their highest standing of the season, when they swept a doubleheader from the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-2 and 7-1, stretching their winning streak to nine in a row, their longest of the year.

Bill Nicholson homered in each game to take over the leadership in that department with 23. He drove in two teammates in each game to raise his total to 74, tying Ray Sanders of St. Louis Cardinals.

Bob Chipman was credited with the first-game victory, his third over his former teammates since he was traded to the Cubs. In the second game Claude Passeau scattered 10 Dodger blows for his seventh victory.

Sports . . . Roundup

By FRITZ HOWELL (Pinchhitting for Hugh Fullerton) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A Haney haw-haw! Back in 1937 Roy Cullenbine, current Cleveland outfielder, was doing a pretty good job at bat and afield for Toledo's Mudhens in the American Association—and appeared headed for the big time.

One day fun-loving Fred Haney, Mudhen manager, called Cullenbine aside just before the game and whispered: "Do your best out there today, Roy. A couple of scouts are in the stands and want to talk to you after the game."

Roy had a "3 for 4" day, made a couple of circus catches, and felt just a bit chesty as Haney led him to a box behind the Mudhen dug-out.

"Roy," Haney said, "here are the scouts who want to meet you!" And there, faces beaming, were two Boy Scouts—in full uniform—looking worshipfully at their fuming flustered favorite.

Surgery Offered No Hope in Case Of Lem Franklin

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Harrison S. Martland, chief medical examiner of Essex County, said Thursday an autopsy showed that the death of Lem Franklin, 28-year-old Chicago negro heavyweight boxer, resulted from "A type of injury where surgery offered no hope."

Franklin died earlier in the day in city hospital where he had been under treatment from injuries received on July 24 when he was knocked out by Larry Lane, Trenton negro, in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round main event at Meadowbrook Bowl.

The medical examiner asserted that Franklin had been struck in the middle of the forehead and multiple concussion hemorrhages of the brain resulted, but he added, it could not be determined whether the injury was caused by a blow or by the subsequent fall.

Franklin's death was the first among heavyweight top-notchers since that of Ernie Schaf after his fight with Primo Carnera in February, 1933.

Others who died of ring injuries were: Frankie Campbell after a fight with Max Baer; Bull Young, from the effects of blows delivered by Jess Willard; Frankie Jerome,

Chances Are Slim For Doug Bentley Return to Hawks

REGINA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Chances were slim last night that Doug Bentley, star left winger with Chicago Black Hawks, will see action this winter in the National Hockey League, in light of an announcement by Mr. Justice P. M. Anderson.

The chairman of the Saskatchewan Mobilization Board said that no border crossing permits would be issued this year to men in categories eligible for military call-up who wished to play hockey in the United States.

Mr. Justice Anderson said Wednesday that Bentley, granted permission to cross the border last winter because he was engaged in farming, this year would have to take such winter work as the supervisor of provincial farm labor requirements instructed.

"If he is not needed on his farm, he will have to go into essential war work."

Bentley, N.H.L. scoring champion in 1942-43, farms 360 acres at Delisle, Sask. after a bout with Bud Taylor, and Tony Scarpato, who was a victim of Lou Ambers' punches.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—While there are still enough leaves on the trees to provide protective cover from snipers, we're moving out on a limb today to predict that Bob Muirhead of the Browns is going to pitch against Morton Cooper of the Cardinals in the first game of an all-star Louis world series.

Knowing full well that the trees shed their leaves by world series time, we're still willing to stake out a claim on our branch (not Branch Rickey) and park there until the Yankees, Red Sox, Indians or Tigers come along and prove we're wrong.

There'll be company on the limb, too. The St. Louis fandom—at long last—is waking up to the fact that the long denied Brownies are on their way to their first pennant.

FANS WERE SKEPTICAL THEY'VE BEEN AKEPTICAL with good reason. Year after year they have watched the team either totter and dither the second in the second division or fold up after a good front run and yield the top spot to some other club.

The rest of the nation accepted the Browns this year before their own fans did. Disappointments of two many failures made them the poorest drawing club in either league until their recent home stand when the fans finally began to take them seriously.

Now, our St. Louis operative informs us, they are getting ready to go wild. The team is five and a half games in front, readying itself for the last trip east which will make or break its changes. If, after invading the parks of the eastern contenders, the Yankees and the Red Sox, they are able to come home still in front, the fans will "tear down the ball park." And there is precedent for that, too.

"AMERICAN LEAGUE TOWN" "ST. LOUIS has always been an American League town," out informant says. "In 1922 on Labor Day when they drew a full house for a doubleheader, the fans got so excited they ripped up the seats and tore the wooden sides off the park. After that they put up concrete sides, but there is no telling what the fans will do if the Browns come home in front."

He emphasizes that St. Louisans, by nature cautious, have been waiting to see what happens, but that they will swing over to the support of the Browns in favor of the Cards if the teams meet in the series.

The fans of 1922 had their spree for nothing, because the Yanks went on to nose them out for the pennant, but they don't believe that will happen this time. There is no less an authority for that than Mike Gonzales, the Canny Cuban coach of the currently neutral Cards.

SAYS BROWNS WILL WIN "THE Browns they will win," he sputtered. "Their infield was wonderful almost as good as the Cardinals, no? The Yankees, they are not the Yankees any more. The Red Sox, good hit, no pitch."

The St. Louis operative is convinced that the Browns have a more solid pitching staff and that they will come into the series "red hot" as did the Cardinals of 1942, who swept the Yankees off their collective feet.

The weakest department for the Browns, catching, has been bolstered by the purchase of catcher Tom Turner, while the return of Dennis Gauchhouse to a regular starting berth has helped the pitching staff immeasurably. Manager Luke Sewell has every player spirited to his highest pitch of the season for the impending trip and only a sudden and unexpected collapse is likely to stop them now.

So come on you Brownies—we would hate to have to see the world series from a bare limb in October weather.

Freer Markets Said Necessary Following War

MEDICINE HAT, Aug. 3.—The only way prosperity could be maintained in Canada after the war was by freer markets in the world, James Walker, independent party leader, said in a campaign speech here last night. "Tariff barriers must be broken down," he said.

He said that prosperity depended on adequate markets for our surplus goods. Markets available at the present time were 80 per cent temporary, and 20 per cent permanent, he said.

"There must be freer trade between nations in the post war period, to insure the exchange of all surplus goods, and thus make all nations prosperous," he said.

CRITICIZES GOVERNMENT

Speaking on behalf of J. A. Bell, independent candidate for Medicine Hat, and C. M. Moore, independent candidate for Cypress, Mr. Walker levelled most of his criticism at the financial policies of the Social Credit government. Large sums of money would be necessary in the post-war period for rehabilitation, he said, and until the credit of the province was restored, money would not be available from outside sources.

The CCF, he said, had never said anything about borrowing money. They talked only of taking over the organizations in the province which showed operating profits, but said nothing about those not making profits. He pointed out that it always cost more to operate under government ownership than it did under private ownership.

"How long would the people stand for the government drilling oil wells on untitled property, if the first hole or two were dry holes, costing in the neighborhood of a million dollars each—with no returns," he asked.

Urge More Use Of H.B. Railway

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Western members of the Commons last night urged the government to take steps toward increased use of the Hudson Bay Railway after the war. The railway came under discussion during consideration of transport department estimates.

Transport Minister Michaud reported the road had a deficit of $347,000 in the year 1943-44 compared with a surplus of $112,000 the previous year and a $459,000 deficit in 1941-42.

A. H. Bence (PC-Saskatoon City) and J. W. Burton (CCF-Humboldt) said more grain should be moved over the line and shipped from Churchill. Mr. Michaud said convoys did not operate from Churchill.

John Blackmore, Social Credit house leader, said there was feeling in the west that the railway was "sabotaged by insurance rates."

E. E. Perley (PC-Quebec) said recent inventions, particularly in direction finding, might make it possible to keep the port open three months more each season than had previously been possible.

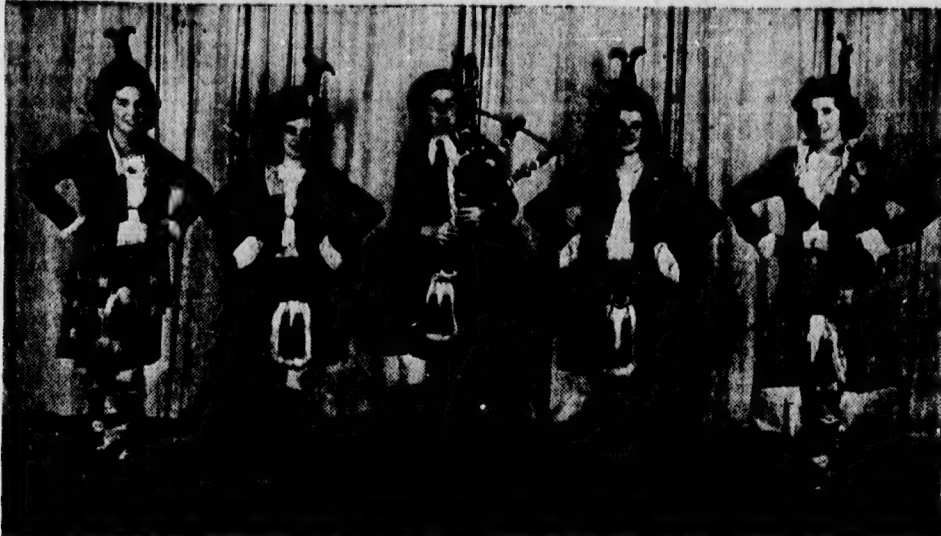

Maintenance Crew Removed by Union From N.S. Shipyard

HALIFAX, Aug. 4.—(CP)—A maintenance crew of 19 men was taken from the Halifax Shipyard, Ltd., last night by the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, local One, (CCL) which charged that the management had violated the maintenance agreement. A union spokesman said that a maintenance crew was provided with the provision that a union inspection committee would be allowed to enter the yards. He said the committee was denied entrance to the yards yesterday. The maintenance crew had been on duty, in shifts, for 24 hours.

New Uses Found For Air Schools

CALGARY, Aug. 4.—(CP)—New uses for two air schools slated for closing soon were announced yesterday at No. 4 Air Training Command Headquarters, RCAF at Calgary. No. 31 EFTS, RAF, DeWinton, to be disbanded Aug. 25, is to be occupied by an aircraft holding unit, as is No. 32 EFTS, RAF, Bowden, which will close Sept. 8. The Bowden station will also be used as a pre-aircrew training school. It had been scheduled to close Aug. 25, but is being continued until the later date.

Enemy Dead Estimated at 500,000

Japs Paying Heavily in Men, Materials As Island Outposts Slowly Fall to Allies

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Along with personnel losses, estimated as high as 500,000 killed, the Japanese are seeing a slow but sure whittling away of the island bases they obtained in their southeastward sweep of conquest across the Pacific.

Present operations in Guam, Tinian and Saipan threaten to cut in half the ocean area of control Japan had acquired in the nine months following the attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941.

But this half contains only the small island bases and part of New Guinea, leaving the Philippines and East Indies still in Japanese hands, as well as her mainland conquests.

STRONG FORCES ISOLATED
However, the strategy of island-hopping has already immobilized and isolated strong enemy forces and a successful attack on the Philippines Islands may render comparatively simple the ultimate recovery of the Indies area.

At the end of July, 1942, the Japanese virtually controlled the Pacific within an area bounded by horizontal line crossing just above the northern tip of Australia, eastward to the 180th Meridian and north on that line to include the Aleutian Islands of Kiska and Attu.

Now the line has moved far west to nearly the 160th Meridian from Paramushiro in the Japanese Kuriles south to New Guinea and present operations may move it even farther, to the 140th Meridian.

ALLIES CONTROL AIR
From point of view of air power the line is much farther west since the Allied air command virtually controls the air almost to the mainland. The bases now being fought over in the Marianas put the Allies within 1,500 air miles of both Japan and the Philippines.

Outstanding developments in the campaign to whittle down the Japanese area of control were the capture of the Aleutian Islands of Attu and Kiska, the conquest of the Solomon, the bloody but successful fight for eastern New Guinea, and the subsequent island-hopping which has brought the Allied forces to almost within striking distance of the Philippines and Japan itself.

It has been an expensive campaign for both sides, but most expensive to the Japanese whose killed are estimated as high as 500,000 and who are believed to have lost nearly 3,000,000 effective since their attack on China 10 years ago.

163 WARSHIPS SUNK
The American navy communicates have listed 162 Japanese ships of war sunk, 33 believed sunk, and 176 damaged. These include 76 destroyers, two battleships, 30 cruisers and seven carriers known to have been sunk.

The Japanese are also known to have lost 779 cargo, transport and other vessels sunk by Allied action. Japanese aircraft losses are estimated in excess of 12,000.

American naval losses alone exceed 160 known to be sunk or captured including 43 destroyers, six heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, 26 submarines and six aircraft carriers.

Indian Hero Amazed

Great "Little" Soldier Gets V.C. From King

By DOUG HOW

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN ITALY, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Kamal Ram looked at King George and the King-Emperor looked at Kamal Ram and wondered that this baby-faced Indian of 19 could be the man who had done all the things the citation said he had done. (The King returned to England Thursday.)

This baby-faced figure pinning the Victoria Cross on his khaki shirt, his battalion of the Punjab regiment drawn up behind him, those great Generals Alexander and Leese and others standing there looking at his strapping figure. Kamal Ram was still a trifle bewildered by it all.

He had been only a rookie when he had done that thing the big fat colonel was reading about in this mown Italian field. He had just come up to the Punjab a few days before they made the crossing of the Gari River and joined Canadian tanks in the assault of the Gustav line. Twenty months before he had left his home in the Punjab, another Gharja who wanted to be a soldier.

VOLUNTEER WANTED

Then it was May 12 and they had crossed the Gari River and his company was pinned down and some body asked for a volunteer to take on the harassing machine-guns. Kamal said he'd go.

One by one he eliminated three machine-gun posts, with bayonet and grenades and his willowy little frame. He killed five Germans and captured four and his company, amazed and inspired, stormed the fourth post and were not pinned down any more.

The Gustav line was broken in three days and the Punjab went on fighting in the Liri valley. Kamal Ram went on with them until one day he was wounded and they sent him to hospital and eventually to a reinforcement unit.

AMAZING EVENTS

It was there that these amazing events had started. They had told him one day at the reinforcement unit that the provost was looking for him. Kamal Ram could think of only one reason he had disobeyed his sergeant after knocking out the first two machine-guns.

The sergeant had said for him to go back, but Kamal Ram had insisted in joining the sergeant in the attack and knocking out the post. They must, Kamal decided, be putting him on charge for disobeying orders.

He tried to dodge the provost but they took him away and finally they placed him aboard a plane and flew him to a field near Siena. Only on the eve of his investiture, had they told him why the provost had come.

HIS MAJESTY AWED

Now here he was under the broiling sun, his pughee (turban) hot on his brown head, his shorts pressed to perfection, his boots dusty over their glittering shine. The King shook his hand and asked his age, then, awed by the penetrating stare of this diminutive fighter he looked down and the investiture was over.

The New Zealand band struck up and his turbaned mates swept him to their shoulders and carried him around the field. His was the first V.C. his division had won in Italy, the second V.C. his regiment's battalion had won.

Kamal Ram, a great soldier on the shoulders of great soldiers, was borne away.

Better Service Is Seen Under CBC Chairman

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Improved radio service and more efficient handling of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would result from the appointment of a full-time, salaried chairman for the CBC, War Service Minister LaFleche said yesterday in the Commons.

He spoke before the house gave second and third reading on division to a bill providing for the appointment of a full-time salaried chairman. The measure met opposition from Progressive Conservative and CCF members.

Gen. LaFleche said that since 1936 the CBC has had the services of a part-time chairman who received an honorarium of $1,500 a year. In his opinion this was a fault in the setup of the corporation, but despite the fault the CBC had made good progress.

DISPOSE OF BILL

Passage of the bill came after the house disposed of a bill aimed at assuring fishermen stabilized prices for their products in the post-war years, and a measure amending the Customs and Tariff Act.

Finance Minister Itley said during study of the customs and tariff bill, based on budget resolution previously adopted, that it was found impossible to advance from Sept. 30 to Aug. 31 the date on which new prices for farm implement repair parts will go into effect. The reduced prices result from the government's action in lifting the duty and tax on repair parts imported from the United States.

Earlier, Labor Minister Mitchell said that in his opinion the strike of the Montreal tramways employees was not "warranted over an item of this description." The cause of the dispute was a clause in a new agreement under negotiations which would force new employees of the company to join the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees within 30 days after employment.

HELD UNWARRANTED

"When the big national and international picture is taken into consideration, I do not think a strike is warranted over an item of this description," said Mr. Mitchell. Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, and M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said they did not support the radio bill because they feared it would lead to a division of authority in the corporation.

Gen. LaFleche said the bill was to do away with divided authority. There had been ineffectiveness in the past due to divided authority, and the bill was aimed at rectifying the situation.

The chairman would be the real head of the corporation, and would rule on matters of policy. "I want to put the general manager beyond the possibility of believing even for a moment that it would be his duty to assume the functions of the real head of the corporation," he said.

SAID "DISGRACEFUL"

Mr. Graydon said it was "disgraceful and scandalous" for the CBC to be without a general manager since last October.

(Dr. James S. Thompson, president of the University of Saskatchewan, resigned as general manager last October.)

John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) expressed belief that the CBC should curtail its advertising activities.

A free press was essential to free speech, but the press could not remain as independent as in the past if the CBC continued to invade the revenue fields of the press.

Canadians Serving In Forestry Corps Landed in France

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Canadian lumberjacks of the Canadian Forestry Corps have landed in France it was reported yesterday. One English reporter who covered the embarkation went "overboard" in describing these "big bronzed husky men, who for the last three years have been employed in forestry work in the woods of the Scottish highlands."

He wrote in a dispatch to his London paper: "Among these tough and brawny lads I picked out the toughest and brawniest and certainly tallest—Pete, Slim Renshaw, from Vancouver Island, who stands six feet four inches in his outside boots."

Divorce Record

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Parliament this year has granted 111 divorces, establishing a high record for the last 10 years. Senator John T. Haig, chairman of the divorce committee, reported to the upper house yesterday. Of the 110 cases dealt with by the Senate committee this year 107 originated in Quebec.

408 Electors Cast Votes at Advance Poll

Breaking all records of advance polling in Edmonton, 408 city voters cast ballots at advance poll which opened Thursday afternoon at 9532 Jasper avenue. The figure is "almost double" advance polling over a three-day period in previous election campaigns, according to H. H. Crawford, city returning officer, who is conducting the vote.

The advance vote will continue Friday and Saturday, between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m., and 7 and 10 p.m., at the Jasper avenue address. Those planning to use advance polling facilities are asked to bring enumeration slips with them, to facilitate checking involved by clerks.

Revision of voters' lists is being continued Friday and Saturday morning at Mr. Crawford's headquarters, but will conclude at 4 p.m. Saturday. Those wishing to have their names included on the revised lists are asked to make application during the morning period, to avoid conflict with advance vote proceedings in the afternoon.

The military band of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion The Royal Edmonton Regiment, will parade at the Prince of Wales Armory Sunday at 10 a.m. At 16:15 band will parade at C.P.R. station. Battle dress with anklets.

Alberta College. He enlisted in The Royal Edmonton Regiment and went overseas in November, 1939. Injured in England he was recently returned to Canada and is at present stationed at Vernon, B.C. They were married in England in November, 1941.

Light Showers On South Side

No rain was recorded last evening nor this morning at the weather station at the airport but about 25 of an inch fell on the South Side. This is just one example of the many "light scattered showers" throughout this vicinity.

The weather forecast for Friday and Saturday is "partly cloudy with scattered showers this even."

Minute Make-Ups

Fuller Earth absorbs heat! Pat it on dry, chafed skin. A few drops of perfume in your rinsing water will add fragrance to your hair. An ice cube rubbed over the face after or two. Yet they are far more in need of our ministrations than the soldiers who, at least, have the companionship of crowds, and who are free to roam the streets in search of diversion.

Let's hope that this woman's letter will have a double-barrel effect. First, that it will make a lot of foolish girls, who think it will be so thrilling and exciting

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

As Much a Prisoner As Though in Fortress

A Hardship for Soldier's Wife Is When She Is Kept Home by Her Small Child; Thinks She Is Prisoner

DEAR MISS DIX: Everybody is greatly concerned about keeping up the morale of our men in the service. Why doesn't someone give a thought to keeping up the morale of the lonely service wives?

I am 19 years old, married to a soldier. I have one baby a year and a half old and expect another soon.

I am a stranger in a strange city, without a friend or a relative, and no one holds out a kindly hand to me. I am a prisoner in my own little apartment. I can't go to church. I can't go to a show. I can't do Red Cross work. I can't go anywhere where I could meet people because I am tied down to the baby. Even on the rare occasions when my husband can come home we can't step out to any place of amusement, for we can't find anyone to mind the child.

All we service wives can do is to stay put while single girls are gadding about and dancing with our husbands, and we are getting gray hair trying to figure out ways to pay exorbitant rents and still have enough money to eat properly. Believe me, if anybody needs to have their morale jacked up, it is us.

ANSWER: This letter is an indictment of every one of us women who are so busy selling bonds, or running antiques, or getting up dances for soldiers. We overlook the tragedies of war that are happening right next door to us.

Yet these poor little young child-wives who have left their comfortable homes, their families and friends, to follow their husbands and who are stranded in strange cities where they know no one; who are living in miserable and uncomfortable lodgings and who are tied down by babies, are enduring just as much of the hardships of war as their husbands are.

They are starving for companionship just as much as they would for food in any concentration camp. They are held prisoners by a baby's hand just as much as they could be by an armed guard and they are just as much shut up in a two-by-four apartment as they could be in a stone fortress.

And we pass them by without even giving them a kindly word, or asking them into our houses for a cup of coffee and a doughnut, or offering to mind Junior for an hour or two. Yet they are far more in need of our ministrations than the soldiers who, at least, have the companionship of crowds, and who are free to roam the streets in search of diversion.

to follow their husbands about from camp to camp and wait in strange cities for them to come back, put off marrying until after the duration. And, secondly, that it will make us all do more to make the lives of the service wives less lonely and dreary.

CONVENIENCE

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: When my wife and I married it was a marriage of convenience and we did not pretend that we were in love with each other. We were not even very well acquainted. But I soon found out that she was an excellent housekeeper, a good cook, easy to get along with, an intelligent and interesting companion and a good sport.

Today we are celebrating our fifty-fifth anniversary. We have had no quarrels, and as I look back and see the good things my wife has done I am filled with wonder at how happy we have been. Now we have had no romance, but we have been well satisfied with each other. What have we lacked?

ANDREW

ANSWER: Nothing, I should say. Not all people are romantically minded. Your marriage has been a beautiful friendship and in that you have had the best of marriage.

BASHFUL

DEAR MISS DIX: My daughter is bashful and has a hard time making friends. I am planning to send her to college. Do you think this will help her? Would you advise a large, small, coed, or girls' college?

PUZZLED MOTHER

ANSWER: Nothing will do so much to cure your daughter of her timidity as sending her away from home and throwing her upon her own. I would strongly advise the girls' college for her where she will be thrown with girls. What she will learn from other girls will be more valuable to her than anything she can get out of books.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

This is the season of all seasons for putting the children in good form for the long school year ahead. One can feed children properly, dress them comfortably, give them opportunities for companionship with other children and yet fail to do one's best for them, if they are not immunized against the diseases with which all children come in contact.

Nothing within our own lifetime has progressed and made such a startling success as the prevention of disease. For children this has been an unalloyed blessing. Now children do not need to die or carry ugly scars through life because of small pox. The one dread name now hardly causes a ripple. Diphtheria is not, as it was in my childhood, a scourge which might in a few days carry off one's dearest companion. I have to this day as keepsake, the small Sunday school purse of a little friend named Zoe who died at age seven of "black" diphtheria.

If diseases cannot be entirely eradicated they can be minimized so they are neither dangerous nor painful. Eddie comes down with the measles and his smaller brother, treated to a convalescent serum, is sick but a day or two. The time for immunization is early in the child's life. From the age of six months on the doctor will see that the child is immunized against small pox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

In countless cases these immunizations have been without noticeable reaction. Occasionally a child has a fever or seems uncomfortable but most mothers admit there is little or no reaction.

The methods and the means of immunization are being improved constantly, so the only one who is in a position to advise wisely as to the time or the method is the baby's own doctor who knows the child intimately.

But right now, before school begins, if these immunizations have been overlooked, is the time to take advantage of all that medicine has contributed to keep the child immune from the contagions he will not escape in any group of children.

Our new leaflet, "Disease Preventives," discusses them in detail. It may be had by sending a stamp, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

HEALTH DEPENDS ON ORAL DIGESTION

When I was a sophomore medical student my father, who had no medical knowledge but was an omnivorous reader, used to debate with me on the primary or essential cause of disease. He had a theory of his own about it, which of course was absurd to my mind then. He maintained that "all disease begins in the stomach." When I undertook to point out the inadequacy of the theory by citing typhoid fever which begins in the intestine, father would pause only briefly in his discussion of pathology to ask how the typhoid bacilli got into the intestine if not from failure of the gastric juice to destroy them—and go on from there while I remained baffled and silent. At times I wondered whether medical science was wrong about it after all, so often did father draw me on until I was practically supporting his contention—I, a sophomore medical student, remember.

If father were here today I wouldn't consider his theory that "all disease begins in the stomach" so absurd as I did then. In the light of our newer knowledge of nutrition the theory requires only a little editing to make it presentable now—change the "all" to "much" and the "stomach" to "mouth"—much disease begins in the mouth—and you have in a few words the gist of many volumes of modern scientific literature.

Shakespeare was as warm as father when he put the famous toast in the mouth of Macbeth—"Now, good digestion wait on appetite, and health on both!" Health does depend on good digestion, and good digestion depends on something more than appetite. It depends on mastication, and mastication of course requires functionally efficient teeth, either your own or your dentist's, and on the sort of food you masticate.

Nearly four fifths of the calories, the energy, in the daily diet normally comes from carbohydrate material (starches and sugars, in vegetables, cereals, fruits, nuts) and nearly half of the starch in such foods should be digested by the action of the ptyalin (digestive enzyme or ferment in the saliva) while the food is being masticated and for a good half hour after it has been swallowed. So it should be clear that when mastication is crippled by loss of teeth or by untreated decay or disease of teeth, or gums, mouth or oral digestion is deficient and a good deal of undigested starch is passed along to the stomach and finds its way to the duodenum, where an excessive burden is imposed on the pancreatic juice to digest it. Stomach and duodenal or intestinal digestive functions are bound to be impaired by the handicap and general nutrition inevitably declines. No, brother or sister, you can't enjoy good health, while, if you have a few teeth carious or missing, even if they are back teeth that do not show.

Debunker

Many people ignorantly believe that educated women do not want to have families, and that the bearing of babies is left mostly to the uneducated classes. Studies of college graduates show that educated women produce more than their share of children, and that their interest in home-making and motherhood is constantly increasing in recent years. Several hundred thousand young women are now taking special home-making courses in our schools, studying child-care, baby-feeding and infant-growth. Statistics show that the higher the education of married couples, the more children they have. This is a good sign.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng.—(CP)—A man charged with wilfully wasting food by overturning a table with margarine, tea, sugar and bread was found not guilty when his wife came to his defence and said she had swept up the food and made her husband eat it.

Miss MacNeill Attends Meet

Miss Lennie M. MacNeill, who was a delegate from the Edmonton club, has just returned from attending the 8th Biennial Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, which was held at St. Louis, Mo., from July 11 to 13.

The convention was attended by 300 representative women executives from all parts of the United States and Canada, the sessions being held in the Gold Room of the Hotel New Jefferson. The theme of the convention was "United Women—Power—Bridgehead to a World of Harmony," and the discussions all centred around the place of women in the post war world.

LARGEST CLUB
The Soroptimist Club is the largest international women's club in the world and much effort has been directed from the members on this continent to giving assistance and aid to members in countries across the seas.

The first afternoon of the convention there was a broadcast from the liaison officer, Elizabeth Hawes, of London, Eng., not only expressing the appreciation of the overseas clubs but also giving a message of great inspiration to the convention. Following the convention, Miss MacNeill spent ten days visiting friends in Chicago. Here the Soroptimist Club held a luncheon on the Saturday following the convention in honor of visiting delegates, ten in number, who returned to their homes by way of Chicago.

SIGNAL HONOR
Through Miss MacNeill the Soroptimist Club of Edmonton had the honor of a spotlight introduction at the regular dinner meeting of the Chicago Rotary Club, the Soroptimists having the same basis of classification for women as the Rotary Club has for men.

The outstanding feature of entertainment at the convention was the evening performance of the opera "Naughty Marietta," given at St. Louis' outdoor municipal theatre in Forest Park. This theatre has a seating capacity of 10,000 and nightly performances are given during the summer months.

At 88 Years British Guest Finds Painting Source Great Pleasure

By GLADYS GOULD
Painting still-life and landscape views, true to reality, is an achievement, but doing so at the age of 88 is an exceptional accomplishment, and that is just one of the activities of Mrs. Anne Montgomery, a charming British guest, at present residing at 9000 99 avenue.

Besides painting, Mrs. Montgomery is a talented pianist, and does beautiful crochet and shell work. The shell work is her most recent avocation. She took that up a few years ago while staying in Galveston, Texas. It is the cementing of small shells, in some design, to stiff paper and painting them. Mrs. Montgomery takes a pleasing design for place cards and other purposes.

During her stay here she has painted a picture of the Saskatchewan river as seen from St. George's Crescent, another of the road leading to Queen Elizabeth Park, and other scenes from the garden next door.

Her five children were born and raised there. The youngest son was killed during the last war. Mr. Montgomery died shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery moved to Harrogate, Yorkshire, Eng., to be near her daughter, Lillias. When the evacuation of women and children began from England in 1940 her son living in Galveston, asked her to come to live with his and his family. She arrived in Galveston in November, 1940. Her son died of a heart attack in December, 1943, and she came to Edmonton, to say with another son Harold. She travelled all the distance alone. At the present time she is trying to get passage back to England.

Contrary to the belief that old country folk like their tea at 4 p.m., she will not touch anything to eat between meals and attributes her good health to this.

Of her family, her oldest son, Llewellyn of Dumfries, Scotland, does some painting and her daughter, Lillias has done some remarkable work along this line.

Interest on August 15 will attend a luncheon in Juneau, Alaska, given by Governor Ernest Gruening.

Continuing down the west coast they will visit at Prince Rupert, Vancouver and Victoria where they will stop over August 29.

Accompanied by Mrs. Atherton and their son and daughter, Mr. Atherton will arrive in the city at 8:10 a.m. Aug. 10 over the Canadian National Railway and will leave by plane on Aug. 11 for a tour of defence projects in northwest Canada and Alaska proceeding down the west coast to Vancouver and Victoria.

Activities of the visiting party include meetings with U.S. military authorities, His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, and Premier Ernest Manning.

Included in the party will be Dana Dolen of the U.S. Office of War Information at Ottawa, and Mrs. Dolen.

Appointed minister to Canada in July, 1943, Hon. Ray Atherton became the first U.S. Ambassador to Canada when the legation was raised to an embassy in November, 1943.

Plans for visit
Plans for his visit to Edmonton are being made by the U.S. consul here, R. P. Streeter. Following is the itinerary:
8:10 a.m. arrive at the CNR depot.
9:00 to 11 a.m. visit headquarters of Northwest Service Command and other U.S. Army installations.
11:00 a.m. call on His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen at Legislative buildings.
11:30 a.m. call on Premier Ernest Manning at Legislative buildings.
12:15 p.m. joint Chamber of Commerce-Rotary-Kiwanis luncheon at Macdonald hotel.
4:30 tea with Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen and Mrs. Bowen.
6:30 p.m. informal dinner at Macdonald hotel given by Col. Frederick S. Strong, commanding officer of Northwest Service Command, U.S. Army.
8:30 attend informal discussion meeting of the Edmonton Branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

Leave for west
The party will leave Ottawa Aug. 6 and will stop over in Winnipeg Aug. 7 and 8 arriving in Edmonton Aug. 10.
Leaving for the north Aug. 11 they will visit in Watson Lake, Whitehorse and other points of interest.

Reported Killed

Sgt. Vernon Alfred Goodwin, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodwin, 10434 University avenue, who was reported missing in action May 22 this year is now reported killed in action on that date. Well known in musical and school sports circles in the city he attended Queen Alexander Public and King Edward High schools. He went overseas in September, 1943, as an air gunner. Sgt. Goodwin was a former carrier for The Edmonton Bulletin.

Sgt. Vernon Alfred Goodwin, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodwin, 10434 University avenue, who was reported missing in action May 22 this year is now reported killed in action on that date.

Record of 31 years standing was shattered during the first seven months of 1944 in the number of building permits issued by the city of Edmonton.

With a total of 1,673 building permits issued for all types of construction between Jan. 1 and July 31, all records for like periods since 1913, went by the boards.

The next biggest year, for a similar period, was 1943, when 1578 permits were issued. Last year's total included about 200 wartime houses.

Total value
Total value of all construction for the period is $4,336,055. Residential structures feature the statistics with 536 homes, each over a value of $1,000, being built or under construction.

There were 292 permits issued in July, against 472 for the same month last year. Wartime houses boosted the total for July of last year.

There have been 112 permits issued for dwellings valued at over $1,000 in July.

McCoy Health Service
Walking is a splendid activity and I consider that the person who takes a brisk walk each day is the one who will travel fastest on the road to health.

If I were asked to choose the one single exercise which would be most helpful to the largest number of people, then I would choose walking. This form of activity is not expensive and may be easily fitted to the needs of any person who is able to put one foot before the other. Those who are unaccustomed to walking should start by walking short distances, striding at a moderate rate. Those who are accustomed to vigorous activity may walk at a more rapid rate or may alternate walking with running.

The ideal is to so increase your strength and endurance by your daily walking that you are able to cover 4 or 5 miles a day and come in feeling refreshed.

About the only patients who can not walk are those actually confined to bed with some acute or chronic disorder, and those who have so much trouble with their feet that walking causes increased pain. That leaves a great majority who could go out and walk today and feel better for having done so.

As you start on your walk, remember to stretch your legs enough so that you feel all the muscles of the calves and thighs in action. After walking vigorously for a block or two, try to settle down into a steady, rhythmic gait with as little muscle tension as possible. See how relaxed you may become and still hold the body upright. Easy, graceful, relaxed movement should be your aim. In other words, try to walk and still do as little muscle work as possible. You will soon fall into the rhythm of it and as your strength increases you will find you are able to cover easily a number of blocks which tired you out at first.

As you walk, get the head back until it is on a straight line with the spine, get the chest out to the front, and flatten the abdomen. Breathe deeply and give your lungs the treat of some real fresh air and you will find yourself benefiting in many ways.

I do not know of any other simple exercise which is so practical and which will do as much for you, as walking. Go on today and take that walk. You have a real help to better health waiting for you if you will only walk.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

to avoid hitting two children crossing the street. Mrs. Dahl said she had not seen the children but was trying to prevent a collision with the other car.

Woman Injured In Car Accident
Mrs. Judith Dahl, 12744 85 street, suffered a slight injury to one foot after her car struck and knocked over an electric light pole at 96 street and 102 avenue about 4:55 p.m. Thursday. Police said that she had swung to avoid a collision with another auto being operated by Frank Tobey, 11139 66 street. The latter informed police that he thought Mrs. Dahl had swerved

Red Cross Clinic In West District

The Red Cross mobile blood donors clinic was in Westlawn last week when residents of that town and Evansburg gave 63 donations of blood. This number was small owing to the fact that the farmers were haying, the women were canning fruit and the roads were bad.

The president of the clinic, Mrs. C. B. Thompson, and the secretary, Mrs. S. Seedhouse were in charge of arrangements. The clinic was held in Westlawn community hall, with Dr. A. S. Chisholm in attendance. Pat Dawson, of the 3rd Cub Pack Boy Scouts of Christ Church, was errand boy.

Bag U-Boat
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Three United States destroyers escorted a U-boat which sought to attack an Atlantic convoy recently, the Navy said last night, adding that 1 1/2 hours of fighting preceded sinking of the submarine "off the Atlantic coast." About a dozen of the raiders' crew, including her commander, were taken prisoner.

Five thousand pieces of jewelry were recovered by dredging a ceremonial well of the Maya Indians.

LAFF A-DAY

Operators Give Paid Holidays To Coal Miners

Coal miners in the Edmonton and Camrose district will henceforth receive two weeks vacation with pay, as recommended in the award of a royal commission headed by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, handed down on November 17, 1943.

J. Stokalk, vice-president of District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America, in a statement issued following a meeting between union leaders and Edmonton and Camrose district operators here Thursday, said that all operators had agreed to implement the findings of the royal commission report in respect to annual holidays for miners.

MINERS ELIGIBLE

Miners eligible for vacation with pay are those employed for 12 months who have lost no more than 90 days during the period.

Period for vacations as fixed by the award is between April 1 and September 1.

According to Mr. Stokalk no action to implement the award had been taken by Edmonton and district operators with one exception. J. B. Starky, veteran Edmonton operator, had agreed to carry out terms of the award at an early date.

A special meeting was therefore arranged between the union heads and the remaining Edmonton operators. In the meantime the matter had been referred to Arthur McNamara, deputy minister of labor, in the federal government.

Mr. McNamara wrote the Edmonton operators urging them to implement the findings of the royal commission, stating in his letter that the royal commissioner had powers equal to a regional war labor board.

AGREE TO TERMS

At Thursday's meeting the operators all agreed to carry out the terms of the findings of Mr. Justice O'Connor.

Mr. Stokalk was planning another meeting with the operators for Friday when other aspects of the royal commission report were to be discussed.

THE QUESTION

What is your reaction to the efforts being made by the city to obtain wartime buildings for conversion into housing accommodation to relieve the present shortage?

THE ANSWERS

CHARLES RICHARDSON, salesman: I think that it is a good idea. I was sorry to see that Mayor John W. Fry said neither the former Jesuit College nor the Bechtel-Price-Callahan building would be available for this purpose. Both would have made excellent buildings for housing.

HAROLD MULDOON, student: In view of the reported great lack of housing here, I think that an unremitting effort should be made to provide essential accommodation.

GORDON TOLLER, traveller: There is no time to be lost. The autumn and winter seasons will be here all too soon. Having found the Bechtel-Price-Callahan building and the former Jesuit College unavailable, it is to be hoped the city will continue every effort to find more accommodation.

Regular monthly meeting of the Alberta Welding Association scheduled for Thursday, has been cancelled. The next general meeting will be held on Oct. 5. These meetings are being cancelled for the summer holiday season.

"Heat Ceiling"

CHUNGKING, Aug. 4 (AP)—Authorities yesterday set a ceiling price for ice at 12 Chinese dollars a pound (60 cents) as the city broiled in a heat wave. Other ceiling prices fixed for hot weather refreshers were: ice cream, 60 Chinese dollars ($3); a cup of lemonade, $40 ($2); a bottle of milk, $50 ($2.50); a glass of ice-suckers, $18 (90 cents); a stick. A second hand refrigerator was advertised for sale at $650.00 ($32,500).

Says Promises Unfilled Make Tragic Record

The record of political democracy was one of tragic failure to implement promises made by candidates in election campaigns, J. H. Dowler, CCF candidate for Edmonton, told an audience of about 25 persons at Westmount community hall Thursday night. The failures were not made because of dishonesty, nor by dishonorable men and women in government, but because no government can effect promises as long as they seek to administer the present system, which has outworn its usefulness, he said.

Mr. Dowler was one of three speakers of the evening, the others being Mrs. F. C. Butterworth and J. E. Enright, also CCF candidates in Edmonton.

"The present system is based on private ownership and control of productive resources and functions only in the interests of the owners and only when they can make profits," continued Mr. Dowler, who added that without access to these resources, no one can live.

"WILL PRESS ON"
"The issue is socialism against capitalism, public ownership against private ownership," he said, "whether or not the CCF wins this election, the party will press on."

Mrs. Butterworth stated that Social Credit health measures, while good, were only "little nibbles." More provision should be made for sufferers of tuberculosis and cancer, for social services and hospitalization. Of the latter, she said maternity hospitalization was not enough; there should be post-natal care.

Mr. Enright declared that the capitalist system should be replaced by a system of public ownership.

"In this country," he charged, "we have economic dictatorship more than any other country in the world."

The only substitute for monopoly is public ownership, and social-minded people around the world are striving for the same thing as the CCF, he said, and added:

"Financial institutions are not private property; we cannot each privately have a railroad or a bank. Institutions affecting the lives of all people, should be public-owned."

The speaker said the "big capitalists" couldn't be controlled, but to "put them out you must use your ballot. There must be economic as well as political democracy," he added.

W. E. Paul acted as chairman.

Premier Says Govt. Fighting Cause of Ills

While other Canadian political parties are attempting to "patch up" the present economic system to make it do, the Social Credit party and government of Alberta remain as the only force in the country attempting to get and remedy the root cause of Canada's economic ills, Premier Ernest Manning told an audience of 100 persons at Alberta avenue community hall Thursday night. Mr. Manning shared the platform with other Social Credit party candidates for Edmonton seats in Tuesday's election, N. B. James, Orvis A. Kennedy, Harry D. Carrigan, and John B. Gillies. A similar meeting was held simultaneously at Beverly community hall, speakers alternating between the two halls. Canada's problems have never been centered around production, but are problems of distribution, Mr. Manning told listeners. The war has proven beyond a doubt that production has given rise to economic difficulties.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY

"Our problems have always been of distribution, and the only reason is because under the present monopolistic financial system there has never been enough money distributed to the people to enable them to buy sufficient quantities of the abundance of goods and services the country can produce," the premier declared. "Our problem has always arisen from the shortage of money in the hands of the people."

Under nine years of Social Credit government, Alberta has become recognized as leader in the Empire of the fight against the financial monopoly, and at the same time has far outdistanced the rest of Canada in fields of social services and education, Mr. Manning stated. He told of a $17,000,000 reduction in the public debt since 1935, effected while the government operated a pay-as-you-go plan for public works.

Two main fields of action of the government have been the unrelenting fight to break the stranglehold of money that is the root cause of Canada's economic ills, and doing everything possible under present financial restrictions to give better social services and honest, courteous administration, said the premier.

NEVER BETRAY VOTERS

"Social Credit will never betray the confidence of voters," he declared. "A renewed mandate will have every ounce of our determination to carry on to the end the fight we have started in this province."

Mr. Kennedy charged the socialist party in Canada has been afraid to tackle the cause of economic troubles.

"They say they are opposed to monopolies, but they will bring them on," he said. "If they oppose monopolies, why don't they attack the one big monopoly that has deprived the people of the bountiful rights Canada can produce?"

Norman B. James, Social Credit member for Edmonton in the last Legislature, denied his party has forsaken any principles adopted in 1933, 1934, and 1935. He challenged CCF party spokesmen to name one principle abandoned.

Mr. James referred to the old United Canada Association, "started under Maj.-Gen. W. A. Griesbach and later decomposed into the Peoples' League and still later utterly decomposed into the Independent party," saying Elmer E. Roper, provincial leader of the CCF, was secretary of the United Canada body.

FOUGHT ALL REFORMS

"That's the man, and that's the society who for the last 10 years have fought by fair means or foul, every economic reform the Social Credit government tried to bring in. These are the 'roadstool reformers' who have sprung up," Mr. James said.

Mr. Carrigan told of the provincial post-war reconstruction committee set-up and its work, while Mr. Gillies discussed family allowances proposed by the Dominion government, comparing them to Social Credit's basic dividend which had been ridiculed 10 years ago.

Currie announced last night that nearly 1,000 striking coal miners in the Albion, MacGregor and Allan shafts at Stellarton, N.S., have returned to work after a five-day work stoppage. The miners went on strike last Saturday following the dismissal of two workers after a dispute over safety regulations in the mines.
